

BSG LIVE'26

HEALTH & SAFETY REQUIREMENTS

Exhibitors are reminded that among the statutory duties which they have under Health and Safety law, Health & Safety Declaration Form and their Stand Risk Assessment form are most important and will be subject to verification prior to gaining access to the exhibition area for set up. Failing to return either form will result in you not being permitted to access the exhibition area.

It is the policy of the organiser to endeavour to seek the co-operation of all concerned in order to achieve the highest standards, in all aspects, of health and safety.

It is the exhibitors' responsibility to ensure that all their company personnel and contractors are fully compliant with the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 and that the mandatory requirements are adhered to:

- A written company Health and Safety Policy should exist if the company employs 5 or more employees.
- One or more competent safety advisers must be appointed by an employer to assist them in discharging their health and safety responsibilities (Regulation 6 - MHSW).
- Every employer has a duty to co-operate with other employers, e.g. exhibitors when sharing a workplace, whether temporarily or permanently (Regulation 9 - MHSW).
- Every employer (exhibitor) must provide appropriate information to the principal of any outside contracting company the employer uses on the risks associated with the work they will be doing, and details of their health and safety policy (Regulation 10 - MHSW).
- Exhibitors must also ensure that any appointed contractor(s) and sub-contractor(s) abide by all regulations in the exhibitor manual together with all legal regulations under the Health and Safety at Work Act, 1974, and any other relevant legislation.

Exhibitors and contractors must also comply with the Health and Safety provisions in the Rules and Regulations and Terms and Conditions applying to the exhibition including the venue owners' requirements. Exhibitors and contractors duties under the Health & Safety at Work Act 1974 are in no sense reduced when an employer is exhibiting at a trade fair and those which are most relevant to exhibitors are described in this section, and must be complied with by EVERY exhibitor. Failure to do so not only creates problems for the venue and the congress organiser, but represents a clear breach of law, and could result in the prosecution of an employer (exhibitor) by the Health and Safety Executive (HSE) or the Local Authority.

It is our general duty as congress organiser - as well as our specific duty under the above regulations - that we request your co-operation by complying with the requirements that are described in this document.

Please ensure you fill in, sign and return pages 2, 5 and 7.

Insurance/Public Liability

As an exhibitor, you must hold and are asked to provide proof of adequate public liability insurance by 18 May 2026.

Neither the conference organisers, their official contractors nor the venue are responsible for any loss including theft or damage to the property of exhibitors or their contractors or for injury to any persons within the boundary of the venue.

Exhibitors are reminded that they are required to accept third party liability and produce evidence of suitable cover if required. It is also advised that exhibitors insure against abandonment.

The conference organisers, whilst taking every reasonable precaution, expressly decline responsibility for any loss or damage which may befall the property of any exhibitor from any cause whatsoever.

All exhibitors are required, as part of their contract, to insure their legal liability and are strongly advised to effect adequate insurance to include cover for all products and exhibits during the overall period of the exhibition including transportation.

Whilst every precaution is taken to protect your property during the conference, responsibility cannot be accepted for any loss or damage that befalls the personnel or property of any exhibitor howsoever caused. Exhibitors are reminded of their responsibility to carry adequate insurance both before and during the event.

Exhibitors are also responsible for insuring against any legal liability incurred in respect of injury or damage to property belonging to third parties. In addition to this Exhibitors should protect their outlay against Abandonment and Cancellation or Curtailment of the conference due to reasons beyond the control of the British Society of Gastroenterology.

Should you require any assistance with arranging specialist insurance for your stand please contact bsg.exhibition@tfilodestar.com.

Risk Assessment

All relevant parties must undertake a suitable and sufficient Risk Assessment and submit it to the organiser by 18 May 2026.

Exhibitor's risk assessments should cover what activities are being conducted on the stand e.g. third party catering, hazards of exhibited machinery and if they are constructing their own stand it should include hazards arising from the construction activities e.g. working at height, electrical work, lifting operations.

Contractors risk assessments should cover the hazards arising from the stand build activities e.g. working at height, electrical work, lifting operations.

All Space Only Exhibitors, Exhibitor's Stand Designer and principal Stand Contractor must also undertake a suitable and sufficient Risk Assessment together if they have any significant hazards arising from their work activities or exhibits that they intend to bring on-site.

If used, Shell Scheme Exhibitors should also undertake a Risk Assessment to confirm that they have undertaken a 'suitable and sufficient' Risk Assessment.

All exhibitors must fill in, sign and return the Risk Assessment Form on page 5 of this document. Shell Scheme stands will need to fill in, sign and return page 7 when applicable and all Space Only stands will need to provide detailed Risk Assessment for the build of their stand.
